(By Associated Press.) ST. PETERSBURG, June 16-6:16 P. M. General Bobrikoff, governor-general of Finland, was shot and mortally wounded at 11 o'clock this morning at the entrance to the Finnish senate at Helsingfors.

and a son of Senator Schaumann, immedistely committed suicide.

Robrikoff was shot in the stomach and neck. He is being brought to St. Petersburg in a dying condition. The attack is ascribed to Finnish projection. Schaumann is believed to be a nember of what is known as the Finnish ricitism. Schaumann is believed to be a member of what is known as the Finnish patriotic party.

General Count Bobrikoff, who was appointed governor-general of Finland in 1898, made himself very unpopular by his severe measures against the press of Finland, and the stern manner in which he followed out the policy of Russia towards the Finns. This led to serious rioting at Helsingfors in 1902, which was suppressed by Cossacks.

The last recorded act of General Bobrikoff was in March of this year, when he issued a proclamation forbidding the people to darken their windows at "unusual hours," People who chose to go to hed before 10 o'clock at night were subject to heavy fines. This step was due to the neglect of the Finns to illuminate their houses in honor of the beginning of the war with Japan.

Indeed, tonight a surprising number of persons reported to these officials that they had been saved, thus cutting the list of missing down considerably, as well as the probable mortality list.

Many persons were injured in the panic that followed the breaking out of flames on the General Slocum, and at least 200 persons were taken to the hospitals. Not a death has occurred so far among these, and many of them have already been

Perhaps the most remarkable case in the many appalling experiences of those who were on the Slocum was that of Miss Clara Hartman, who was picked up for dead, towed behind a boat for several miles, wrapped in a tarpulin and tagged as dead, and then recovered consciousness at the Alexander Avenue Police Station. It is now believed she will recover.

The Japanese attacking force was divided into right and left columns and began the advance on Tuesday along both sides of the railroad. They encountered the Russians east of Vafandlen and drove them back. At a late hour in the afternoon the Russians held a line between Tung-Wang-Tiao and Ta-Fang-Shen. The Japanese artillery opened on this line and the Russians responded. The shelling continued twelve hours, and it was followed by the advance of the Japanese line to a position extending from shelling continued twelve hours, and it was followed by the advance of the Japanese line to a position extending from Lung Chia Tung to Yu-Hotan. Darkness put an end to the fighting. The Japaese dispatched a column to the westward toward Fuchau for the purpose of covering the Russian right wing and to protect their left and rear.

During the night it became apparent that the Russians were being reinforced and it was decided to make a general attack in the morning and force the Russians into a defile back of Telissu.

When morning came, it was discovered that the Russians held a line extending from Ta-Fang-Shen to Cheng Tsu Shan, with a force estimated at more than two divisions.

The Japanese planned to envelop the Russians near Telissu, and they succeeded admirably.

While the main Japanese force was moving north along the railroad columns were swung to the left and to the right and finally converged at noon on the main Russian position. The Russians but
